

RIVERVIEW HIGH SCHOOL

In the Championship Learning Community, students' greatest source of motivation—an interest in sports—is used to emphasize the connections between athletics and careers in journalism, mass media, marketing, medicine, wellness and recreation. Within each small learning community are pathways that include specific courses relevant to each as illustrated in the flow chart below:

Highlights include:

- Courses for students who are interested in areas related to fitness, wellness and sports
- Core subjects with an emphasis on sports, athleticism and health awareness
- Content and activities that appeal to students interested in sports journalism, sports marketing, athletics and wellness, as well as other sports-related careers (e.g., sports broadcasting, sports writing, coaching, officiating, athletic training, team physician, and sports psychology)
